THE

PENMAN

VOLUME I

JOHN DICKINSON HIGH SCHOOL

DEDICATION

In September, 1960, John Dickinson High School was only a beautiful building. Today, however, it is a lively school, actively working to establish traditions, customs, and a fine reputation. It is the students and teachers who have brought about this transition.

We, the Class of 1961, hereby dedicate this initial Penman to all who have contributed to the making of our school: to those who designed and constructed the building; to the administration and faculty; and to the student body, who by their enthusiastic spirit, respect and leadership, have been so influential in the making of our school.

To all these people we extend our heartiest thanks for their part in the initiation of John Dickinson High School.

Many Conradians were members of the transitional school years of 1958-1959 & 1959-1960. When the Dickinson High School opened in September 1960, they became members of the Class of 1961.
