THE CONRAD SEAL

Each year, one of the big moments in a senior's school life comes when he receives his class ring. Gazing upon it for several minutes, he marvels at the beauty of the onyx, the luster of the gold, and the minute detail of the school seal. Perhaps he pauses here and wonders just what that seal stands for. Few, actually, realize the significance of it; therefore, we shall interpret the meaning, hoping that not only the seniors, but the entire student body will commit it to memory.

Beginning with the clipper ship at the top, which, coincidentally, fits in with this issue's theme, we find that it signifies tranquillity. Within the seal proper is a chain of seven links, representing the seven districts which our school covers—Richardson Park, Newport, Stanton, Hockessin, Elsmere, Yorklyn, and Marshallton. On either side is a fasces—the Latin emblem signifying law and order. Finally, knowledge is represented by the text book at the bottom.

The Conrad seal is beautiful indeed, and we may well be proud of it. Its practical value as a guide to life may be shown by noting that if we sail through life guided by books, united like the chain, and strengthened by the fasces, we may truly realize a happier world.

Pvt. Sanford Guyer, a former Conradian and member of the Class of '46, is located with the 63rd Infantry, Camp Hellenmeger, in Korea.
